U. S. WILL HAVE TO MAKE NEW PLANS

For Any German Trade Since
Senate Rejects Treaty—Wilson
Has Nothing To Say

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Nov. 20—President Wilson will have no statement to make on the failure of the Senate to ratify the Versailles treaty, it was said today at the White House. Meanwhile officials expect it to have an indirect result of some importance on steps now being taken to restore the world to a peace basis. The view here is that one of the first consequences will be to hasten negotiations in Paris, including promulgation of a process verba which will restore full commercial and diplomatic relations between Germany and the powers which have ratified the treaty.

The United States not being one of them will have to make new arrangements to fit into the commercial scheme thus created for whatever trade the United States has with the Central Powers, possibly without the aid of American consular representatives.

How Ledge Reservations Lost

Washington, Nov. 19—Ratification of the peace treaty with the reservations framed by the Republican majority and objected to by President Wilson, was voted down in the Senate late Wednesday with the administration Senators lining up solidly against it.

The ratification resolution which would have required a two-thirds majority for adoption, mustered only 39 votes to 55 against it. Its supporters were 35 republicans and 4 democrats, and its opponents 13 republicans and 42 democrats.

The result was to place the treaty in a parliamentary status, which its enemies declared amounted at least temporarily to rejection. Its friends, however, had hopes of reviving it at another session of Congress.

After the ratification vote the republicans permitted their resolution in exactly the form rejected to come up for further consideration, but as the session extended into the evening the solid republican line up which had held throughout the day against repeated democratic compromise proposals, showed no signs of yielding.

A new effort to secure consideration of substitute reservations was made by Senator Hitchcock, who presented a motion to recommit the treaty to the committee of the whole with instructions to report his proposed reservations.

Senator Hitchcock's motion to recommit was, voted down with the usual line-up.

A democratic move to have the treaty referred to a conciliation committee of democrats and republicans was defeated, the mild reservationists again lining up solidly with the other republicans.

NEW CONFERENCE TO SOLVE LABOR PROBLEM

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Nov. 20—President Wilson today appointed a new industrial conference and called it into session here December 1st. It will be composed of 17 men, including government officials, business men, former members of the cabinet, former Governors of states and will carry on the work undertaken by the industrial conference which founded on the rocks of collective bargaining.

Secretary of Labor Wilson, former United States Attorney Generals Gregory and Wickersham, former Secretary of Commerce Straus, are among those named.

The President's letter of invitation said he thought it advisable that in the new body there be no recognition of distinctive groups, but that all representatives should have a concern that our industries be conducted with such regard for justice that the workman will put forth his best efforts the employer have an encouraging profit and the public not suffer at the hands of either class.

COAL CONFERENCE ON AGAIN

Washington, Nov. 20—Resuming today their negotiations with a view of settling the wage scale in the central competitive coal field, the operators and mine workers are hopeful of making progress.

While the committees are at work Fuel Administrator Garfield still withheld any action toward nationwide restriction of coal consumption.

Steps which have been taken in localities pinched for coal, have been the action of regional coal committee of the railroad administration. At a conference of joint committees they were reported as making progress toward a settlement for the first time. They were said to be considering details of wages and conditions of employment. The miners who reported to have receded from the proposal for local adjudication of disputes rising out of a general agreement.

Dispatches said 400 union miners returned to work today near Henderson, Ky., under an agreement that the operators would abide by the decision of the wage conference here.

41,000 Strike in Kentucky

Bourbon Mules Win in Missouri

John Marr, of near Millersburg, Bourbon county, claims the distinction of being the champion prize winner of Central Kentucky on mules. In the big mule exhibit held at the Fulton Mo., fair, Mr. Marr won the blue ribbon in a ring of twenty-four contestants for the best mule of any age. He also won first, second, third and fourth in the two-year-old class. His animals took several blue ribbons at Blue Grass Fair, in Lexington, and at the State Fair, in Louisville. He is grooming a number of fine mules for the 1920 fairs. He recently sold three mules from this premium branch for $1,800.

HEARD ABOUT TOWN

Mr. Henry Bishop sold his farm at Coyle to Everett Warrford, for $5,300.

Lexington merchants are almost entirely without sugar and no relief in sight.

Mr. M. B. Flannery, of Kingsland, bought two fine Jersey cows for which he paid $245.

Prof. Ivan McDougle and Mrs. McDougle are being congratulated on the arrival of a daughter at the home of the latter's parents in Worcester, Massachusetts.

In Fayette county, Isaac Miller purchased for his mother, Mrs. Maggie M. Miller, the Simon Weil farm of 225 acres on the Frankfort pike, for a reported price of $150,000, or $600 an acre. The farm is located two and a half miles from Lexington.

Messrs. Robert Walker and F. E. Allison, of Chattanooga shipped a carload of mules Tuesday of the Christian church at Danville, has tendered his resignation as pastor to take effect March 1, 1920. Dr. Smith has been pastor of the church for over a year. There have been 145 added to the membership and the church budget this year exceeded the previous year by $1,800.

WANT NATURAL GAS PIPED HERE

Local Stockholders In Big Well In Breathitt Say It Would Be Boon To Fuel Users

There are a number of local stockholders in the Big Six Oil and Gas Company which struck the largest gas well in the Breathitt field early this week. A number of them have suggested the plan of piping natural gas to Richmond for fuel and lighting use, and J. L. West, of the company, who makes his headquarters here, is actively canvassing the situation. He says that a pipe line can be built from the main line where it goes thru Clark county for $200,000. Natural gas is selling at 35 cents per 1,000 feet in Winchester, and at no place higher than 45 cents per 1,000 feet. He thinks that it would prove a splendid investment for local capital and business men at the same time prove a boon to fuel consumers here. A number of prominent men have expressed themselves very favorably toward the suggested plan.

The big well that the Big Six struck is making 6,000,000 cubic feet daily. R. T. Gunn, operating in the Breathitt county field, has written that the well is thought to be the largest gas well in the county, bringing the company's gas production to 20,000,000 cubic feet. Central Kentucky will be especially interested in this well since it assures a sufficient supply of gas for all counties and cities adjacent to Fayette and Lexington making his section entirely independent of the West Virginia gas field.

More Trouble For Dick Ernst

Richard C. Stoll, prominent republican lawyer and politician of Lexington, stated in Washington that Circuit Judge Charles A. Kerr of Lexington, will be a candidate for the republican nomination for the United States Senator next year to succeed Senator Beckham. Mr. Stoll and bride are in Washington on their honeymoon. Congressman John W. Langley is also said to be a tentative candidate, so it seems that Dick Ernst isn't to get the nomination on a silver platter, after all.

Corns Come Off Like Banana Peel

"Gets-It" Leaves Too Smooth As Your Palm. Never Fails.

Ever peel off a banana skin? Well, that's the way "Gets-It" peels off any corn or callus. It's a picnic. Nothing else in the world will do it.

"2 Doses of 'Gets-It' Goodbye Corns" but "Gets-It" because of the new secret principle in the "Gets-It" formula. "Gets-It" does away forever with "contractions," "wrappy" plaster, ointments that rub off blood, and kindly "remedies" that strip into the "quick." "Gets-It" eases pain. It takes but a second or two to use "Gets-It." There's no fussing or trouble. It doesn't leave you out your stocking feet back on again. Your corn will come off painlessly in one complete piece. That's common-sense! It never fails. "Gets-It" the only sure, guaranteed, quick-acting, safe corn remedy but a trifle at any drug store. Mfd. by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill. Sold in Richmond and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by Stockton & Son.

This company is now preparing to install its first extractor on its lease, near Tallega for the purpose of extracting gasoline and refined oil from the crude product. If this proves a success in the Kentucky field, as it has in other fields, the company contemplates the installation of other similar machines in Allen and other counties where it has producing wells, according to Mr. Black. As grand master of the Kentucky Masons and as minority leader of the Lower House at Frankfort, Mr. Black is widely known.
